Youth Artists to Participate in West Valley City Youth Arts Festival

WHAT: Youth Arts Festival

WHEN: Tuesday, May 14
5:00 – 8:00 p.m.

WHERE: Fairbourne Station Plaza
2810 West 3600 South (directly west of City Hall)

WHO: Everyone is invited to attend the first annual West Valley City Youth Arts Festival.

WHY: The new Fairbourne Station Promenade and Plaza will bring many new and exciting events to West Valley City in 2013. To kick off this year's programming, the West Valley City Parks and Recreation Department has invited artists from local West Valley City Junior High and High Schools to display their work.

"This is an exciting opportunity for West Valley City kids," says Family Fitness Center Director and project coordinator Nancy Day, "we are excited to provide them with an opportunity to put their talents on display for the public."

More than 90 student pieces from Hunter High School, Granger High School, Cyprus High School and Monticello Academy will be on display; pieces will include sculpture, photography, paintings, sketches and pottery. Additionally, Granger High School will provide entertainment during the event with a jazz trio, the school rock band and the school's madrigals taking the plaza stage.

The West Valley City Council close their study meeting at 6:00 p.m. to attend the event, where they will make short comments and present the artists with certificates. Light refreshments will be served to the public while supplies last. A kids' craft table will also be available for young budding artists.
